

WE KEEP WORKING TO MAKE THE SERVICE WE OFFER YOU BETTER AND BETTER

Even in a delicate and unique moment like this we do not stop and do not give up the continuous dialogue with our customers. Every single change allows us to improve our services through tools that are useful to you on a daily basis, both today and tomorrow.

That's why we have designed and created our new website: www.msitaly.com

A modern website with a minimal and effective design, which facilitates the search for information on our printing solutions and several features offered to those who choose us. While maintaining the same navigation structure, the website has been enriched with in-depth information sheets for each machine and the possibility of downloading the related catalogs and the Green Labels. Among the revised features we improved the products' comparison adding more technical details that allow you to immediately identify the solution that best suits your needs.

We are in an increasingly interconnected world and perhaps only today we have understood the importance of this connection. The new website is part of a wider service platform where our customers will be able to access the contents and functions which are most relevant to them; contents that will be available at any time and from any device.

We will keep you posted. Take care.
